In this history-led topic, we will learn about the Romans in Britain by reading a fiction text from the point of view of a Celtic boy named Bran. As we travel with him, he will teach us about the actions of the Roman of army in Britain and the life of Roman soldiers on the road.

I will learn...

- ⇒ Why the Romans invaded Britain.
- ⇒ The structure of Roman society compared to Celtic society.
- ⇒ Why the Romans were so successful in battle.
- ⇒ Compare the life of a Roman soldier to our own.

Travel with Bran as he finds out new information about the Roman army. We will investigate some mathematical problems linked to our topic.

Year 4 Roman Invasion Spring 1 project

Topic: Roman Invasion

Children explore the book 'Roman Invasion' by Jim Eldridge and follow a young Celt prince who has been captured by the Romans conquering Britain. Through the study of the plot and characters in this text children learn about the structure of Roman Society and why they were so successful as an invading force across Europe.

HOOK: Celt Day—children take on the role of a Celt to act out the opening scene from the story.

OUTCOME: Exhibition - showcasing our Roman mosaics and written masterpieces to our school community.

Driving Subject(s): History & Reading

Reading:

- Children develop their ability to interpret characters' thoughts and feelings through careful unpicking of evidence from a text.
- Prediction—collecting evidence across a range of chapters to support their predictions about plot

History:

- What is the role of the Roman soldier? Compare our daily lives to those of Roman soldiers and structure of Roman society.
- What made the Romans so successful in battle? Using the book to support, explore the tactics of the Roman army.

Applied Literacy:

- Diary writing—children write in role as characters from the text
- Play scripts— writing an informative script about the Roman army in the style of Horrible Histories.
- Battle scene narrative.

Applied Mathematics:

- Roman Numerals
- Measuring, perimeter and area.
